Christian Speaking Credentials

As President of Bopape Enterprises, Inc., Cherise Bopape endeavors to help women become more marketable, to preserve their families, foster their peace of mind, and provide empowerment. Also an author, speaker, and seminar leader, Cherise cares about women living under stressful circumstances. With her at the podium, your next event will catapult women to higher levels of inspiration and empowerment. Her unique anecdotes, intriguing facts, visuals, purposeful exercises, and warmth all convey messages of perseverance and victory.

If you're striving to encourage single mothers, provide hope for physically abused women, give tips for work-life balance, or inspire women who rear young children, Cherise can help. Her experience in these areas makes her a capable authority on such tough topics. Weaving Biblical doctrine into her presentations, she promotes intimacy with the Lord.

Cherise has been involved in various facets of women's ministry, has been an assistant coordinator for a church ministry that serves single mothers, and has taught Sunday school to elementary students.

Cherise has appeared on Christian programs such as Atlanta Live, Club 36, The Harvest Show, and The Matter at Hand. She is a member of Toastmasters International, Girl Scouts, Zion Baptist Church (Marietta, GA), and the Christian Authors Guild.

Faith-Based Program Descriptions

Battery Not Included: Reading the Fine Print

According to the June 2006 Harris poll, 15 percent of American adults admit they've been a victim of domestic violence. The good news is—you don't have to be one of them. Let Cherise show you the warning signs. They're often written in fine print. With the right specs, though, you can see them clearly and live the fully "charged" life God wants for you.

Suddenly Seeking Sanity

From birthing babies to child rearing, we experience one breathtaking event after another. Literally. If we're not careful, though, motherhood could suffocate us. In this program, Cherise teaches mothers to turn their frazzled gasps into grace-filled praise.

A To Do List To Die For

We like things in balance—our tires, checking accounts, diet, and hormones. But what happens when our careers and personal lives get out of sync? Join Cherise as she explores what balanced living entails. By taking a look at Scripture, Cherise challenges women to ponder their own to do lists and weigh them against God's Word.

The Savvy Single Mom

With single moms in mind, Cherise covers hot topics like fear, contentment, dating, and more—all from a Biblical perspective. Using real-life examples, she'll share tips that encourage single mothers to be independent and savvy. Expect a jolt of inspiration and a boost in confidence.

Attitude is Everything: The Fruit of the Spirit

Using Galatians 5:22-26 as a foundation, this workshop helps elementary school girls to compare their behaviors and attitudes with the fruit of the Spirit. Packed with role playing, interactive discussions, and storytelling, girls will be entertained and enlightened.
